

FITASC Sporting European and World Cups

1. Regarding Fitasc Championships:

- All our championships are open, without any restriction on national origins, to all shooters belonging to federations or other national groups properly affiliated to the Fitasc and up to date with their membership fees.
- At all our championships, the podium of individual rankings per category is for the first 3 shooters of the concerned ranking, which is his/her nationality.
- At a continental championship (European, Africa, Americas, Oceania, Asia...), for each category (open, lady, junior, senior, veteran, master), the title of Continental champion is awarded to the first shooter of the ranking, holding one of the nationalities of the continent.
- At a world championship, for each category (open, lady, junior, senior, veteran, master), the title of World champion is awarded to the first shooter of the ranking.

2. Regarding the Fitasc Continental and World Cups:

For Sporting, the percentage of the broken targets of the shooter's score is calculated, for each category, in relation to the winner of the said category.

2.1 Continental Cup (European Cup)

The placing of Continental Cups is obtained by adding the scores of 2 Championships (a Grand Prix on the Continent & a Continental Championship), so out of 400 targets.

So the finale of the European Sporting Cup 2019 will be held at the European Sporting Championship in Hungary, and will take into account the scores of the United Kingdom Championship or the scores of any other Grand Prix held in Europe before the European Championship.

If a shooter takes part in more than one Grand Prix prior to the European Championship, the best score will be taken into account for his qualification to the European Cup.

The podium of the European Cup per category is for the first 3 shooters of the concerned ranking (first 5 shooters for the open category), which is his/her nationality.

2.2 World Cup

The placing of World Cups is obtained by adding the scores of 3 Championships (a Grand Prix, a Continental Championship and the World Championship), so out of 600 targets.

So the finale of the World Sporting Cup 2019 will be held at the World Sporting Championship in the United Kingdom and will take into account the scores of one Sporting Grand Prix 2019 (British Masters, United Kingdom Championship or any other Continental Grand Prix) held before the World Championship + a Continental Championship 2019 (Africa, European, Oceania, North America) + the World Championship.

The podium of the World Cup per category is for the first 3 shooters of the concerned ranking (first 5 shooters for the open category), which is his/her nationality.
